Users will have access to several toggling panels, which contain properties for the selected 2D / 3D objects, a folder explorer, tool palettes or a handy calculator. New structures can be easily created, either by manually inputting the required values or by accessing the extensive library of predefined 3D structures. All the loaded data can be exported with ease and the application also provides dedicated modules for sending it via email or a Cloud storage account. Impressive layer management that is met with equally apt drawing tools, in a centralized package Users will benefit from an impressive array of features that are meant at increasing the layer management capabilities. They will be able to transform the current layers into objects, isolate the preferred layers, lock or freeze them selectively. Additionally, the application also allows them to work on a multileader level. An extensive collection of drawing tools is included, enabling people access to numerous 2D / 3D predefined objects: arcs, circles, donuts, splines and boxes, cones, spheres respectively.
